ABOUT US

LIFE AT THE RESCUE

Many Tears was founded by Sylvia and Bill Van Atta. Both Sylvia and Bill have a long history of animal rescue - particularly Sylvia who has set up and worked in rescues in both the UK and USA. In 2004 they bought a property called Cawdor Kennels in Carmarthenshire, Wales. They used these kennels to open their new rescue. They have witnessed many sad situations and shed many tears over dogs in terrible situations and hence the name Many Tears Animal Rescue.

Many Tears take in and rehome ex-breeding dogs, those from pounds and others whose owners are no longer able to keep them. When there is space, we help overseas rescues

Although Many Tears is based in Wales we have dogs in foster homes throughout the UK.

Every dog who arrives visits our on-site veterinary surgery for a health check. Each dog will be microchipped, wormed, inoculated and neutered (if old enough). They will also receive treatment for any medical issues they may arrive with. Many Tears will never put an animal to sleep unless we are absolutely compelled to due to a significant medical reason.

Many Tears has spacious living areas for the dogs with warm clean bedding. The staff pride themselves on keeping the kennels spotlessly clean. There are many outdoor exercise areas where dogs can run off lead and play with other dogs and people. Dogs that can walk on lead get regular walks with staff and volunteers. Staff spend time training dogs, socialising scared and young dogs, teaching them to walk on lead and helping build their confidence with people.
